

WHISPERS

Women's Health Interview Survey Project for Education, Research & Services
Box 951563 ▼ Los Angeles, CA 90095-1563 ▼ (310) 206-5160 ▼ whispers@ucla.edu
▼ www.WhispersProject.org ▼

Are there any real differences between the health care of lesbians and heterosexual women?

Ideally, there shouldn't be. However, research studies have indicated that lesbians sometimes have had negative experiences with their health care providers. Lesbian health has long been a neglected topic in mainstream research. In fact, there have been less than 50 studies focused solely on lesbians, with little said about women of color or lesbians and bisexual women over 40! But we need to change that by identifying what lesbians and bisexual women consider priorities in their health care. In order to assess the current health concerns and health problems of the lesbian and bisexual community in Los Angeles County and the Bay Area, Drs. Susan Cochran and Vickie Mays at UCLA have developed a survey. We have already heard from over 1,100 women from Los Angeles County and the Bay Area. THE SURVEY IS ANONYMOUS. The survey will come to you in an envelope that will not have any identifying information about the content of the questionnaire or the WHISPERS Project name. Please help improve the quality of health care delivery for lesbians and bisexual women by telling us about your experiences. If you have any questions, please call (310) 206-5160 or email whispers@ucla.edu. If we can send you a survey, please leave us your name, address, city and zipcode. You can use a nickname, or a PO Box if you wish as long as it is recognizable for delivery to the address listed. You can also email a request for a survey at whispers@ucla.edu. Thank you and please lend your support.

WHISPERS

Women's Health Interview Survey Project for Education, Research & Services
Box 951563 ▼ Los Angeles, CA 90095-1563 ▼ (310) 206-5160 ▼ whispers@ucla.edu
▼ www.WhispersProject.org ▼

Are there any real differences between the health care of lesbians and heterosexual women?

Ideally, there shouldn't be. However, research studies have indicated that lesbians sometimes have had negative experiences with their health care providers. Lesbian health has long been a neglected topic in mainstream research. In fact, there have been less than 50 studies focused solely on lesbians, with little said about women of color or lesbians and bisexual women over 40! But we need to change that by identifying what lesbians and bisexual women consider priorities in their health care. In order to assess the current health concerns and health problems of the lesbian and bisexual community in Los Angeles County and the Bay Area, Drs. Susan Cochran and Vickie Mays at UCLA have developed a survey. We have already heard from over 1,100 women from Los Angeles County and the Bay Area. THE SURVEY IS ANONYMOUS. The survey will come to you in an envelope that will not have any identifying information about the content of the questionnaire or the WHISPERS Project name. Please help improve the quality of health care delivery for lesbians and bisexual women by telling us about your experiences. If you have any questions, please call (310) 206-5160 or email whispers@ucla.edu. If we can send you a survey, please leave us your name, address, city and zipcode. You can use a nickname, or a PO Box if you wish as long as it is recognizable for delivery to the address listed. You can also email a request for a survey at whispers@ucla.edu. Thank you and please lend your support.

WHISPERS

Women's Health Interview Survey Project for Education, Research & Services
Box 951563 ▼ Los Angeles, CA 90095-1563 ▼ (310) 206-5160 ▼ whispers@ucla.edu
▼ www.WhispersProject.org ▼

Are there any real differences between the health care of lesbians and heterosexual women?

Ideally, there shouldn't be. However, research studies have indicated that lesbians sometimes have had negative experiences with their health care providers. Lesbian health has long been a neglected topic in mainstream research. In fact, there have been less than 50 studies focused solely on lesbians, with little said about women of color or lesbians and bisexual women over 40! But we need to change that by identifying what lesbians and bisexual women consider priorities in their health care. In order to assess the current health concerns and health problems of the lesbian and bisexual community in Los Angeles County and the Bay Area, Drs. Susan Cochran and Vickie Mays at UCLA have developed a survey. We have already heard from over 1,100 women from Los Angeles County and the Bay Area. THE SURVEY IS ANONYMOUS. The survey will come to you in an envelope that will not have any identifying information about the content of the questionnaire or the WHISPERS Project name. Please help improve the quality of health care delivery for lesbians and bisexual women by telling us about your experiences. If you have any questions, please call (310) 206-5160 or email whispers@ucla.edu. If we can send you a survey, please leave us your name, address, city and zipcode. You can use a nickname, or a PO Box if you wish as long as it is recognizable for delivery to the address listed. You can also email a request for a survey at whispers@ucla.edu. Thank you and please lend your support.
